Our Story

Founded at the end of 2007, with just a handful of opportunities in a recessed economy, Venue Industries built a client base by providing value, unparalleled customer service and quality products. We have grasped tightly to these core principals and they still come through in everything that we do today. The strong foundation that we have built has afforded us the opportunity for exponential growth in both sales and in-house manufacturing capabilities. Today we build furniture for all commercial markets and our custom-built products, offered at extremely competitive prices, fuels our continued growth.

Chuck Courter

President

Chuck grew up in New Jersey with quite a lot of entrepreneurial spirit. When he was only 15, he started his first job working for a commercial carpet cleaning company. Little did he know, those same offices and public spaces he cleaned - he would one day manufacture furniture for. Chuck started his own construction business at 20, before expanding into real estate and eventually furniture manufacturing. When he is not hard at work, he is flying high - literally. Chuck has his pilot's license, and spends his weekends with his family in the sky.

Kelsey Scholl

Executive Vice President

Kelsey is a Tampa native with a degree in interior design. You could say she's kind of a "daddy's girl", inheriting her love for design from her architect father. From an early age, she accompanied him on trips to Home Depot or into the office, and even drew up floor plans for her future dream home. Kelsey now spends her time remodeling her actual "dream home" with her husband, two children, and their dog, Huntington.

WELCOME TO GETTING EXACTLY WHAT YOU WANT.

We know specifying custom products can be tricky. That's why we offer a limitless supply of options to choose from, product design, and competitive pricing. We have the capabilities to design a vast array of products (we are not limited to the product types we already offer as standards) – so go ahead, dream big.

We're here to make the specifying process as seamless as it can be. Got logistical hiccups? Using us as your sole manufacturer instead of multiple sources will ease the entire process, including the logistics burden. We can ship everything on one truck and have it show up all at once - making the reception & installation of the project much smoother.

Value engineering is one of the tools in our arsenal. We can provide you with custom solutions that are competitively priced and built to match the original design intent. Bring us your specifications and we'll get busy making you a riveting design!

Custom Projects

The Halsten at Chauncey Lane

Design Firm: HBC Design Group
Locations: Scottsdale, Arizona

We worked alongside HBC Design Group to create this bench in 2018. The first step we took was to visualize the daily interactions that would take place. Leasing offices are often congested places: potential renters are filing in and out all day and there's usually a queue for viewing units. With all this in mind, we decided to build something unlike anything we had ever built before. The triple-sided bench.

This bench was designed to seat 10-12 people while being space-efficient. The goal was to be able to accommodate multiple parties of guests without them feeling cramped or uncomfortable. By adding a 'Y' shaped back to the bench we accomplished the division we needed.

Boston Consulting Group

Design Firm: Thomas Interiors
Locations: Chicago, Illinois

Boston Consulting Group had indicated they had their eye on an $18,000 Italian sofa, but they didn't want to spend that much or wait 16 weeks for the manufacturer to deliver. We knew we could produce something just as impressive, at a much lower price-point. The designer sent over the plans for the sofa – it needed to be curved with a low back. They wanted two units, which could be placed adjacent to each other to form an 'S' curve.

Our project managers assessed the specifications and decided to add ganging devices to the units, so they could easily be combined. The entirety of the sofa was made with smooth, upholstered fabric and cushions attached with velcro strips. The base of the sofa was 3" foam and internally webbed. We liked it so much we made it a standard!
